

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Replies to the Attack on Him by
Rev. Mr. McCrory.

SENDS A LETTER TO REV. DONEHO, OF PITTSBURGH, WHICH IS FULL OF INTEREST—He Declares Mr. McCrory is Not a Fair Specimen of the Christian Preacher—The Head of the Catholic Church in America to a Protestant Minister.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 14.—Cardinal Gibbons, under Monsignor Saffell, the papal legate, the head of the Roman Catholic church in this country, has written Rev. E. R. Doneho, the well-known Presbyterian minister of this city, a letter in which Rev. J. T. McCrory, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, is severely criticized for a bitter attack made on Cardinal Gibbons in a sermon preached in Rev. McCrory's church here, April 7.

This sermon was an alleged reply to a sermon by the cardinal at Baltimore March 29 last.

The cardinal's letter was written Friday in reply to one written by Rev. Mr. Doneho to the cardinal on Wednesday last. The cardinal's letter was received last evening.

The sermon which prompted Rev. Mr. McCrory's fierce attack on Cardinal Gibbons was preached in the cathedral at Baltimore, March 31, and was published in the daily papers of April 1. His text was, "Which of You Shall Convince Me of Sin?"

In it he condemned the ex-priests of the Catholic church, who had proved to be unworthy, who had deserted the church, and were traveling about the country attacking it. He made no allusion to ex-priests Slatery or Rathvon, and did not mention the recent Savannah incident.

Among other things, the cardinal said that whenever any of the Catholic clergy is known to have contracted any degrading habits incompatible with his sacred calling he is withdrawn from the active pursuits of the ministry until he has given evidence of reformation. "The church has," said the cardinal, "too much reverence for God, respect for the laity, and for the clergy themselves, to suffer any unworthy priest to minister at her altar. Such a priest," said the cardinal, "is sure to misrepresent and malign the church, for what man ever spoke kindly of the mother whom he had insulted and dishonored? The church's enemies affect to believe a man in his fall whom they would not hear when he was honored in the sanctuary."

"If it is a sin to tell a peccator lie, if it is a crime to calumniate one's neighbors," said the cardinal, "how shall we characterize the offense of those who malign the largest body of Christians in the world? And the calumny becomes more reprehensible when uttered from a Christian pulpit, which ought to be the chair of truth."

The cardinal concluded by counseling his hearers to harbor no spirit of resentment or ill-will against those who were guilty of the calumny, but they should rather have pity and commiseration for them.

In Rev. Mr. McCrory's sermon attacking Cardinal Gibbons, alluding to the Savannah incident, he said that "if he (Cardinal Gibbons) was correctly reported, then he excuses that violent, cowardly, lawless and murderous outbreak."

Rev. McCrory also said the cardinal justified the suspicion of corruption in his church, and confessed that every priest who leaves it speaks against the character of its priesthood. He also alleged that the cardinal excused and encouraged violence, and he made the strong assertion that "the cardinal puts Christianity to shame before the world. He claims," said Rev. McCrory, "to represent the largest body of Christians in the world, and yet he has only soft words for men who would have murdered if they had not been restrained by bayonets."

Among other assertions, he also declared that the cardinal did not represent Christianity, and was speaking for a system that would not bear the light. Other utterances were of similar tenor.

On April 10 Rev. Doneho, who had met Cardinal Gibbons when he visited Pittsburgh, took Rev. McCrory to task for what he rated an unwarranted attack on the cardinal. Last Wednesday he wrote Cardinal Gibbons saying he hoped the cardinal would understand that the sentiments expressed by Rev. McCrory were not those of the Protestant body or any considerable part thereof. Speaking from a Protestant standpoint, he said:

"When we have to put words into your mouth that you do not utter, and attribute to you expressions you did not use, having no other argument, we had better keep quiet." Rev. Doneho further said that he was doing for Cardinal Gibbons what he knew the latter would do for him or for anyone unjustly assailed.

The cardinal's reply, written by himself, was prompt, and follows:

CARDINAL'S RESIDENCE,
408 NORTH CHARLES STREET,
BALTIMORE, April 12, 1895.

Rev. E. R. Doneho,

DEAR SIR:—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter and the enclosed newspaper clippings.

Your ready response to the slanderous attack of Rev. McCrory is, I assure you, greatly appreciated.

Your generous action, prompted spontaneously by a sense of justice and truth, compels my sincere, grateful acknowledgment.

That the attack of Rev. McCrory is unjust must appear evident to anyone who reads my sermon, a copy of which, taken from the Catholic Mirror, of Baltimore, I send to you.

This unjustifiable misrepresentation of another's words and motives, indulged in by Rev. McCrory, is unworthy of any honest man.

The offense is only aggravated when committed by one who is a leader of others, and who professes to teach the doctrine of truth and charity.

I am happy to think that this man is not a fair specimen of the Christian preacher. The knowledge that I have from a personal acquaintance with several gentlemen of every denomination convinces me that the Rev. McCrory is an unfortunate exception in a body of honorable and respected Christians.

I am glad you recall the occasion when I had the pleasure of making your acquaintance, and I trust an opportunity will some day be afforded me of renewing that acquaintance and acknowledging in person your graceful act of justice and charity.

Faithfully yours in X.C.,

J. CARDINAL GIBBONS.

BIG JUDGMENT RENDERED.

Holly River Coal Company Wins Its Case
Against Butcher and Others.

WESTERN C. H., W. Va., April 10.—In July of last year the Holly River Coal Company, by H. C. Thurmond, the attorney, instituted a suit in equity in the circuit court of Webster county against Butcher and others, and at the recent term of said court a decree was entered in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendants for the sum of $38,153.58 and costs, being the largest ever rendered by any court in this section of the state.

A tract of 5,692 acres of land was ordered to be sold to satisfy the debt and costs, and Attorney Thurmond was appointed commissioner to sell the land.

At a special election held yesterday, Fork Lick district of Webster county voted $15,000 subscription to the Pickens & Addison railroad, which will be built the coming summer between those two places, thereby affording visitors much better facilities for getting to the Salt Sulphur Springs here. About 1,000 visitors come here every season.

The Wool Trade.

The market continues quiet, with purchases yet ruling moderate, and buyers only meeting their present needs. Values for domestic wool are quoted about the same, but the near approach of the new clip has a tendency to keep trade slow, and the tone is only fairly steady. Piece wools are in moderate stock, and sell quietly as wanted at 10 1/2 to 17 for XX and above Ohio and 18 1/2 for choice delaines. Michigan fleeces are in very light stock and nominal in price. Territory wools are dull, with most sales ruling on the searous basis of 27 1/2 to 30, although choice lots of long, strong staple warp would go higher. Reports from producing districts are shearing has commenced in many sections. Australian wools hold firm and sell well at about the former basis of prices. The searous basis of general lines of the better wools is about 35 1/2 to 40, with the range above and below these prices occasionally. Carpet wools are quiet.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. If you have never used this great cough medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at the Logan Drug Company's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.

Popular Excursion to Washington, Thursday, April 18.

The last of the series of popular excursions from this section to the National Capital via Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, is announced for Thursday, April 18th, when the same train arrangements and low rates that were in effect on the previous excursions will prevail. Those who have not taken advantage of the previous excursions should not fail to embrace this opportunity to see the National Capital. The severe weather of the past winter is over and the genial warmth of early spring will make traveling more comfortable. The public buildings, museums, art galleries and institutions, will all be open for free inspection and delightful side trips can be made to points of interest near by—Baltimore, Annapolis, Mt. Vernon and Richmond, are all within easy reach of the National Capital. A visitor's guide to Washington, issued by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, giving a synopsis of the public buildings and attraction at the Capital and details of the excursion, train schedules, rates, etc., can be had by applying to any Baltimore & Ohio agent.

Trains leave Wheeling: 5:05 a. m. and 5:45 p. m. Parlor car on morning train from Pittsburgh and sleeping car on the night train. Tickets $10 for the round trip.

Correspondingly low rates from other stations.

Tickets will be good ten days, and will be valid for passage from Washington to Baltimore at any time within the life of the ticket.

For Pullman car accommodations and guide to points of interest in Washington, address nearest Baltimore & Ohio agent.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. Sixty Boxes, Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take.
